HALF-WALL GUIDE

1

Connect the male and female poles together. These will click together to create one long pole.

2

Taking the clamps out of the bag you will notice there are two different shapes of clamps that fit to each leg, depending on the orientation of the leg. The clamp should be flush to the leg and parallel to the structure. If the clamp is clearly facing inwards or outwards, remove it and attach it to the opposite leg.

3

At the end of each ground bar there is a thin piece of metal with a small hole, this is what the clamps feed through. Make sure to clasp the clamps around the leg before tightening the ground bars and make sure everything is secure and tight.

4

Feed the ground bar through the half side panel material through the tunnel at the top.
